Enemies fear Iran's leading role in region - 19 /Oct/ 2011

Leader of the Islamic Revolution Ayatollah Sayyed Ali Khamenei said the Iranian nation triumphed in thwarting multiple plots hatched by arrogant powers, reiterating the significance of maintaining vigilance against persisting enemy schemes.

Islamic Revolution Leader cautioned how the enemy has persistently sought to portray an “inappropriate image” of the Islamic Republic to regional nations.

"US policies across the globe, particularly in the Middle East, have been foiled thanks to the resistance of the Iranian nation," said Ayatollah Khamenei in an address to a massive crowd of people in the city of Kangavar in western Iranian province of Kermanshah Wednesday morning.

Ayatollah Khamenei described resistance against arrogant powers as an “outstanding feature” of the Iranian nation and stated that the enemy intends to block the emergence of Iran as a role model among regional countries.

Islamic Revolution Leader said the evil countries are well aware that the awakened nations in the region are looking up to Iran as a role model so they have mobilized all their might and instruments to prevent “Iran and Iranians” from becoming the leader of the grand Islamic Awakening movement so that other world nations do not follow in Iran’s path of resistance.

He said that the Iranian people have started a very difficult path and managed to strongly and honorably put some very difficult periods behind them such as the eight-year Iraqi imposed war as well as repeated sanctions imposed against the nation.

Ayatollah Khamenei called on the Iranian nation to reinforce its unity and integrity on a daily basis, reiterating that the Islamic establishment in Iran is unique in its adamant refusal to yield to arrogant powers.

Ayatollah Khamenei also urged the Media to exercise due caution in making remarks and disseminating information that would, intentionally or unintentionally, assist the enemy in achieving its anti-Iran objectives.
