Leader emphasizes on justice oriented outlook to Iran’s economy - 6 /Aug/ 2012

The Leader of Islamic Revolution, Ayatollah Seyed Ali Khamenei, has emphasized on the justice oriented outlook to Iran’s economy.

In a meeting with a thousand student elites and activists on Monday afternoon, the Leader of Islamic Revolution pointed out that the economic perspective in Iran should be based on justice and this issue is not in contrast with the 44th Tenet of the Constitution.

The Leader underlined that if the policies of Principle 44 are implemented as described, it will certainly not lead to undesirable capitalism.

Underscoring that one should be cautious so that the socialist outlook would not overcome the economic ideas, the Leader pointed out that if the policies of 44th Tenet would be implemented within the elaborated framework; they will certainly complement the justice-oriented economy.

In further remarks, the Leader pointed out that the root cause of ever-increasing economic pressures in the West and Europe is the nature of capitalist system.

Furthermore, the Leader of Islamic Revolution referred to the resistant economy, as an economy which sets the stage for growth and development of a nation, even under pressures and sanctions.

Elsewhere, the Leader of Islamic Revolution emphasized that students should precisely take into consideration the main goal of the enemy in the soft war, which is to make changes in the calculations of Iranian people and officials. The Leader called on the students to understand this aim of the enemy, and to appropriately counter this sinister goal of the foes.
