Praying behind an Imam Performing a Compensational Prayer - 12 /Aug/ 2019

Q.| If a congregational leader, or imam, is performing a compensational prayer, can we join him in prayer, given that it is possible that he may be performing a potential compensational prayer, not a definitive one?

A.| If an imam who is adequately acquainted with Islamic law and precepts volunteers or accepts to lead a congregation in performing compensational prayers, we can pray behind him without any concern.
