Involuntary Movements during the Qarā’ah of a Canonic Prayer - 17 /Aug/ 2019

Did you know…

If a worshipper performing a canonic prayer makes involuntary movements during the recitation of Sūrat al-Ḥamd or the following sūrah that are not severe enough to disrupt the composition of the canonic prayer, the canonic prayer is valid but the words and phrases said during these involuntary movements must, as a matter of mandatory caution, be repeated when the worshipper regains total bodily stability.
