

Sole way of salvation of Islamic Ummah goes through Koran - 6 /Aug/ 2008

"The sole way of salvation of the Islamic Ummah goes through the Holy Koran," Islamic Revolution Leader Ayatollah Sayyed Ali Khamenei told the participants and organizers of the 25th international Koran competitions Wednesday night.

Ayatollah Khamenei said such competitions could help urge the Iranian society and the Islamic Ummah as a whole to make more deliberations on Koran and keep company with the Divine Book.

The IR Leader also noted that such events prove helpful in informing the Muslims about different cultures and thoughts related to Islamic countries, especially at time when the enemies are seriously pursuing to divide Muslims and defeat them.

Ayatollah Khamenei recommended the foreign participants of the competitions carry and convey a message of friendship and affection from the Iranian nation to their compatriots.
