'Nation supports way of late Imam Khomeini' - 13 /Dec/ 2009

The Leader of Islamic Revolution, Ayatollah Sayyed Ali Khamenei receiving Islamic seminary students, scholars and leaders of Friday prayers, said true preaching illuminates minds in the time of political turmoil.
Ayatollah Khamenei said that certain individuals, through law-breaking attitudes, tried to encourage people to act against the Islamic Republic system.
The IR Leader reiterated that such a law-breaking approach resulted in insult to the Father of the Islamic Revolution, the late Imam Khomeini by the disappointed enemy.
Ayatollah Khamenei called on the people to be calm towards those who have insulted the late Imam Khomeini, adding they are people with no roots.
The IR Leader reiterated that the defeated presidential candidates, who have failed to prove their claims of vote fraud, should return to the right path as the election file has come to a close.
Ayatollah Khamenei pointed to enemies' active role in what happened after the June election especially insulting the late Imam Khomeini and acknowledged the nation's support of the late Imam Khomeini.
"This Administration has divine geometry, constructed by a divine man, and relying on people's support," Ayatollah Khamenei said while inviting people to be calm and prudent.
The Leader of Islamic Revolution slammed those who incite discord by blurring issues after they had broken the law.
"They pretend they respect the law while in practice they violate every law. They chant their support of Imam Khomeini, yet they set the scene for some to commit such sin and insult Imam to please enemies," the IR Leader added.
The Leader of Islamic Revolution said those who had grown bold and stood against the revolution are small in numbers and spoke of the Islamic Administration as a divine system which had been protected by God in the past thirty years and would remain the same.
"One who works for Islam, the Revolution, and Imam Khomeini changes his course of action the moment he feels he has caused things to go against the principals," Ayatollah Khamenei said.
The Leader of Islamic Revolution said some should reconsider their actions when they face those who advocate omission of Islam from the most important motto of the Revolution, or when they face some who chant in favor of the Zionist regime in the Quds day.
"Why don't they open their eyes when they see the patriarchs of imperialism, America, France, and England, are supporting them," Ayatollah Khamenei said.
The Leader of Revolution said it was more reasonable to acknowledge the truth and condemn the act of insulting to the late Imam instead of denying it.
Ayatollah Khamenei pointed to those who diverged from the path of Imam while Imam was alive and said that should be a lesson for everyone.
The Leader of Islamic Revolution added that he strongly believed that the administration should have tolerance, but when some insist on diverging from the principles nothing could be done.
Ayatollah Khamenei said the enemies of the Islamic Administration and those who seek to rule the world with their false logic would receive a hard slap from Iranians as well as free nations of the world.
Leader of the Islamic Revolution asserted that the main goal of unity among seminaries and universities is using spiritual and material capacities of these two parts and said main goal in this path is preaching divine messages and offering truth to the people.
Ayatollah Khamenei underlined on holding special ceremonies on Ashura event and said some people believe that there is no need to such ceremonies but elucidation of Ashura event is necessary.
He urges holding such customs and avoiding incorrect moves in this regard.
Pointing to the conditions the era of the Noblest Messenger of Allah, Hazrate Mohammad, Ayatollah Khamenei said in an atmosphere full of seditions, people can not distinguish between right and false issues and even certain individuals may face with hesitation in different cases.

The Leader of the Islamic Revolution reiterated that the enemy uses all its tools to confuse people including the certain individuals. Certain slogans such as law, supporting human rights and oppressed people are among such tools.
Referring to recent remarks by the American president over the lawbreaker governments, Ayatollah Khamenei said which government is more lawbreaker than the American government which occupied Iraq and imposed many difficulties on the country's people.
"What rules have allowed the American government to occupy Iraq and Afghanistan and kill many innocent people?" The IR Leader asked.
"Promoting religious differences among different sects is another way to sow discord among Muslims," Ayatollah Khamenei said, adding the only way to confront religious differences is insight, true preaching and avoiding the enemies' plots.
