In a meeting with members of Qom Seminary's High Council - 26 /Oct/ 2010

Leader of the Islamic Revolution, Ayatollah Sayyed Ali Khamenei in a meeting with members of Qom Seminary's High Council on Tuesday said preparing a comprehensive system for education, research and preaching is necessary and stressed that adopting a strategic outlook and plan is one of the serious needs of the Seminary.

Islamic Revolution Leader said planning, setting goals and determining priorities of the Seminary sciences are possible via drawing an outlook for the future, adding management of the Seminary should also be swift and light.

Ayatollah Khamenei stated that continuous relation between the Qom Seminary's High Council and respected religious authorities is necessary and stressed the necessity for using views of young scholars.

Ayatollah Khamenei reiterated that the leadership does not intervene in decisions and approvals of the Qom Seminary's High Council.

Leader of the Islamic Revolution emphasized that the style and method of teaching and studying in the Seminary should not be limited and said that practical mysticism is one of the essential cases for scholars and clerics.

Referring to his discussions about some reforms in the Seminary in recent years and his Thursday's meeting with scholars, Ayatollah Khamenei stressed that the issue of reforms in the Seminary should be seriously followed up.
